ABOUT THE ASIA DALIT RIGHT FORUM

The Asia Dalit Rights Forum (ADRF) was instituted in February 2014, by civil society leaders from Bangladesh, India, Japan, Nepal, Pakistan and Sri Lanka to address the common challenges of socially excluded groups in South Asia. It is a platform that works to empower the socially excluded and safeguard their rights and entitlements. Formed in the aftermath of the historic World Conference against Racism at Durban, South Africa in 2001, over the last decade ADRF has become a global advocacy platform for descent and work based discrimination in the South Asia region and global diaspora.

Acknowledgement

Towards understanding discrimination based on work and descent (caste) and its vastness in influencing development, this report provides systemic understanding of hidden apartheid still under represented and widely practiced. The comprehensive study was prepared by Asia Dalit Rights Forum (ADRF) in association with Regions Refocus 2015 and Asia Parliamentarians Forum on Dalit Concerns (APFDC).

I would like to share my sincere appreciation for the researchers who were instrumental in the preparation of this report, especially Abhay Xaxa, Beena Pallickal, Dyuti and Juno Varghese (NCDHR); Anita Nayar, Kathryn Tobin and Mary Alice Jackson (Regions Refocus 2015); and Deepak Nikarthis (ADRF). I would like show my gratitude to International Advisors Aloysius Irudayam and Anita Nayar (Regions Refocus 2015) for providing their insights and structure of the study.

I, also, would like to acknowledge the contributions provided by Sono Khagharani, Bhakta Bishwakarma and Zakir Hossain (ADRF) in completion of this study material. Also would like to acknowledge the studies done by Office of High Commission for Human Rights (OHCHR), United Nations Development Program (UNDP) and International Dalit solidarity Network (IDSN). Further I would like to show my appreciation for Nishant (Aspire Designs) for designing and developing this book.

I. DISCRIMINATION BASED ON WORK AND DESCENT: AN INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS ISSUE

The independent experts of the UN human rights system have published specific, actionable recommendations to eliminate discrimination based on work and descent (caste). The draft UN Principles and Guidelines for the Effective Elimination of Discrimination based on Work and Descent (2011) sets out fundamental obligations of states to address exclusion based on descent, endemic to South Asia but also found in Burakumin communities in Japan; the Roma community in Central, Eastern, and Southern Europe; Quilambo in Brazil; and Osu people around the world. In total, 260 million people worldwide face systemic discrimination and exclusion based on work and descent. This constitutes a violation of their human rights and as a deterrent to holistic development.

UN human rights language pertaining to discrimination based on work and descent is compiled in the companion document United Nations Policy Guidelines on Caste, compiled by Asia Dalit Rights Forum, Regions Refocus 2015, and Asian Parliamentarians' Forum on Dalit Concerns.

II. CASTE-BASED DISCRIMINATION IN SOUTH ASIA: AN OVERVIEW

Over 210 million Dalits live across South Asia. Official data is collected to varying degrees depending on the country; for Pakistan and Sri Lanka in particular, less information exists than for Bangladesh, India, and Nepal. A brief profile of the overall development parameters and discrimination faced by these communities is below, arranged according to national context.

As a complement, see the matrix South Asian Policies on Caste, which compares the existing laws, policies, and quotas of Bangladesh, India, Nepal, Pakistan, and Sri Lanka to the Sustainable Development Goals and targets of the new 2030 Agenda. Identifying gaps in this framework, the matrix includes relevant recommendations for legal and policy measures and mechanisms to eliminate caste discrimination and exclusion across South Asia, organized under the categories of Accountability and Peace, Gender and Social Justice, Economic Justice, Ecological Justice, and Data.

BANGLADESH

Dalit population: 3.5 to 6.5 million 3-4% of total population

Bangladesh has a Muslim majority (90%) and a Hindu minority (9%). Almost 25% of the Hindu population are Dalits. The Hindu Dalits are generally categorized as 'Harijans' and the Muslim Dalits as 'Arzals'. The primarily caste-based system of exclusion takes a complex shape in practice. Class, citizenship, religion, gender intersect with caste to deepen the nature of discrimination. Dalits are largely identified by their specific caste names associated with their traditional caste-based occupations such as fishers, sweepers, barbers, blacksmiths, goldsmiths, cobblers and oil-pressers.

Denied access to public spaces including places of worship, social gatherings, restaurants, movie theatres, burial grounds, cultural events

- ✘ Dalit women face extreme discrimination such as forced labour for cash or food, trafficking and forced migration to Arab nations as domestic help.
- ✘ Discrimination in schools, ranging from admission to segregation in seating
- ✘ Income inequality: more than 78% of Dalits surviving on an income of less than Tk.5000
- ✘ Employment in most vulnerable conditions in low paying traditional caste occupations such as cleaning, sweeping and manual scavenging
- ✘ Limited access to public services of water, sanitation and electricity
- ✘ Absent from public administration services or public decision making bodies
- ✘ Abject housing conditions, segregated settlements with little or no basic amenities
- ✘ Routinely face severe human rights violation and violence such as abduction, rape, torture, destruction of houses, land grabbing, eviction from land, threats and intimidation

INDIA

Dalit population: 201 million 16.6% of total population

India is home to the largest population of Dalits in the world. The caste system has religious sanction and is reinforced by cultural customs. Formally termed Scheduled Castes (SC) by the Indian government, over three-quarters (76.4%) of Dalits live in rural areas while less than a quarter (23.6%) live in urban areas. With the exception of a small minority who have benefited from India's policy of quotas in education and government, Dalits continue to face severe forms of social injustice.

- ✘ Dalits today continue to be among the poorest of the poor, congregated in the informal sector as landless, daily-wage labourers in farm and non-farm occupations, with extremely low levels of education and health.
- ✘ Relegated to menial tasks due to lack of employment opportunity.
- ✘ Dalit children sold into bondage labour to pay off debts to dominant caste creditors.
- ✘ Unequal economic opportunities due to caste structures; Dalits have failed to access the benefits of globalization and market liberalization.
- ✘ Untouchability practices, extreme violence and human rights violation which include being prohibited from public and community spaces such as wells, temples, owning land, segregation of Dalit habitation, made to perform degrading rituals in the name of caste, violent reactions to inter-caste marriages, discrimination of Dalit children in schools.
- ✘ Dalit girls are forced to become prostitutes for dominant caste patrons and village priests under the 'Devadasi' system, and face sexual abuse and other forms of violence by landlords and the police to inflict political "lessons" and crush dissent within the community.

NEPAL

Dalit population: 3.5 million 13.2% of total population

In Nepal, the National Dalit Commission has listed 26 castes as Dalits, including 7 Hill Dalit castes and 19 Terai Dalit castes. According to the Nepal Human Development Report 2014, Dalits are among the poorest of the poor and one of the most vulnerable social groups in the country, with no security of livelihood or life. Their socio-economic status is consistently lower than the national average. Caste-based discrimination and 'untouchability' are ubiquitous in Nepal, perpetuated through long-held customs and practices.

- ✘ 43.6% of Hill Dalits and 38.2% of Terai Dalits are below the poverty line, as compared to the national average of 25.2%.
- ✘ There is documentation of multiple forms of caste discrimination, including prohibition of inter-caste marriages, denial of access to common water sources, temple entry and social boycott.
- ✘ Segregated settlements in both rural and urban areas; prejudice prevails in urban areas where Dalits fail to find rental housing.
- ✘ Religious and cultural practices discriminate against Dalit women such as the practice of Badi women being forced into prostitution as a caste occupation.

PAKISTAN

Dalit population: 330,000, 13.6% of 2.44 million Hindu minority population

While the word 'Dalit' is not mentioned in any official document, estimates suggest that Dalits form 90% of the total Christian and Hindu population in the country, concentrated mainly in Sindh, Punjab and Baluchistan provinces. Add to this the 'lower castes' within the Muslim community and the Dalit population is even higher. Such is the exclusion and invisibility of this social group that the dominant caste Hindu minority has moved to erase the words 'scheduled caste' from the gazetteer.

- ✘ Most Dalits live in remote rural areas and face exclusion in all spheres of life, including education, health and employment opportunities.
- ✘ High incidence of poverty, lack of all basic amenities including toilets.
- ✘ Own no land and are mostly small and marginal landowners.
- ✘ Over 48% of scheduled castes work as agricultural workers and daily wage labourers, drawing lesser wages than the dominant castes.
- ✘ Bonded and child labour is a frequent occurrence; children are often forced to work in abject conditions.
- ✘ Dalit women have little or no representation in any political or processes or institutions. Especially in rural areas of Sindh, they face severe challenges in accessing education. Many are forced into traditional forms of bonded and debt labour in rural areas in both agriculture and in the brick kilns and sexually abused. Kidnappings and forced conversions of young Dalit women also occur frequently, reportedly with total impunity for the offenders and with the consent of the authorities.

SRI LANKA

Dalit population: 4 to 5 million 20-30% of total population

In Sri Lanka, there is no common identity as 'Dalits' among the 'lower' castes and it has been difficult for them to organize themselves as a community. This is partly due to the existence of three parallel caste systems practised by the three major ethnic groups of the country, the Sinhalas (around 74% of the total population), the Sri Lankan Tamils and the Indian Tamils (together making for around 20% of the total population). Each of these systems is based on the idea of hierarchy and discrimination, while there is no uniformity in the notion of untouchability. The importance of caste has diminished over the years; some pockets of caste discrimination continue to exist. Sri Lanka also has witnessed certain new forms of caste discrimination that have emerged in the plantation economy.

- ✘ Sinhala society: lower ranks in the caste hierarchy are most excluded from power, land ownership and dignity. Many Dalits continue to perform menial services assigned to them. Living conditions have improved gradually due to opportunities offered by the Sri Lankan welfare state, but have not evenly benefited all caste groups or all members within a specific caste group. Hence, there are many depressed caste pockets where extreme poverty and continued pressure to pursue hereditary caste occupations exist.
- ✘ Sri Lankan Tamils: Caste system most rigid, especially in Jaffna, with clearly defined patterns of discrimination and social rejection driven by a religiously articulated notion of untouchability. Those at the bottom of the caste system and those internally displaced during the civil war have no land ownership or any other resources to reconstruct their lives. In war and tsunami affected areas of Eastern Sri Lanka too, caste is of considerable importance in identity formation, local politics, and processes of social discrimination.
- ✘ Indian Tamils: Among the poorest communities, adding to their social marginality, with lowest life expectancy and poorest quality of life. In urban areas, the sanitary labour communities are Dalits of Indian origin.

Across South Asia, caste discrimination and violence continue to mar the lives of the Dalits. It is critical to acknowledge the historical exclusion and discrimination of Dalits for the eradication of poverty and the overall development of the region. Within the community, Dalit women face multiple oppression for being poor, Dalit, women, and members of a minority (religion in Pakistan, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka, and linguistic in Sri Lanka). This enhances their vulnerability to exploitation and egregious forms of violence.

- It is critical to develop a human rights based approach, improve implementation, strengthen laws that define the vulnerability, violence and deprivation adequately and include mechanisms for accountability.

III. SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT THROUGH THE LENS OF CASTE-BASED DISCRIMINATION: PROPOSALS

The implementation of the new 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development must address the discrimination, exclusion, and violence faced by Dalits and their experiences of intergenerational poverty because of this discrimination based on work and descent. Grounded in the human rights principles of substantive equality, non-retrogression, and non-discrimination, development planning at national, regional, and international level must take steps to eliminate caste-based discrimination. Below follow proposals for implementing the Sustainable Development Goals through the lens of caste-based discrimination, examining laws, policies, and quotas in the region that must be created and/or amended.

INTERNATIONAL: UNITED NATIONS

- Adopt the Draft United Nations Principles and Guidelines for the Effective Elimination of Discrimination Based on Work and Descent, 2009.
- Include work and descent (caste) as an important variable in work of the UN system around the 2030 Agenda
- Ensure concentrated efforts to address caste-based discrimination and violence in the implementation of SDGs, through an inclusive human rights-based approach.
- Include reporting on caste and gender in periodic reviews of SDGs, rooted in evidence based research and data.
- Countries while signing and ratifying international human rights conventions, covenants, and declarations must not be allowed to make exceptions on grounds of cultural practices that perpetuate violence based on descent and work (caste).

REGIONAL: SAARC

- Develop a regional framework for the 2030 Agenda, derived from the SAARC social charter, with a focus on SAARC priorities
- Follow-up and review of SDG periodically at the regional level
- Commit to strong implementation through national action plans and interim targets
- Set up a mechanism for regional collaboration and accountability on sustainable development, poverty alleviation and social inclusion, elevating cooperation on these to equal status with those on trade and security
- Roadmap for funding of the 2030 Agenda through SAARC development funds
- Create a regional human rights charter to eliminate discrimination based on caste and ethnic location.

NATIONAL-LEVEL PROPOSALS

Accountability and Peace

- All constitutions should ensure equality for all, and recognize non-discrimination based on caste, inclusive of both Dalit Christians and Dalit Muslims.
- Specific policies should ensure non-practice of Untouchability and other intergenerational and cultural discriminatory practices in all countries.
- Ensure the Sustainable Development Goals are actively translated on the basis of socio-economic, political and legal availability and participation of excluded communities, especially Dalits
- Protect against violence following inter-caste marriages, including the abolition of Kangaroo courts like Khap panchayats.
- Recognize quasi-judicial mechanisms like mahila panchayats as alternative dispute redress mechanisms.

Gender and Social Justice

- Implement nationally appropriate social protection systems and measures for all, including floors, and by 2030 achieve substantial coverage of the poor and the vulnerable
- End hunger and ensure access by all people including Dalits and other excluded communities, poor and people in vulnerable situations, including infants, to safe, nutritious and sufficient food all year round
- Allocate special funds for women within targeted budgeting.
- Ensure policies for improving maternal, infant, and child mortality rates, and sexual and reproductive health and rights for all Dalit and excluded communities.
- Ensure free access to life-long education by all children irrespective of their caste locations.
- National education policies should focus on ensuring lifelong education for all especially for Dalits; remove social disparities; and equalise educational opportunity irrespective of caste.
- Ensure proper awareness of and equal access to health care, including maternal, child, and natal care services for all, without caste-based discrimination.
- Ensure equal access to safe drinking water, including through implementation of national water policies

Economic Justice

- Outlaw caste discrimination in all sectors of employment, public and private.
- National laws should ensure decent job opportunities to all especially Dalits and elimination of the degrading, customary, intergenerational and unclean employments like manual scavenging, Devadasi system etc.

- Legally binding guidelines and frameworks to formulation of basic parameters to ensure access to basic public services irrespective of race, caste, gender, region, ethnicity, language and disability.
- Strengthen targeted budget allocation for the discriminated communities, to enhance access to development, at both macro (sectoral) level and micro (individual, family) level. These policies need to take the form of entitlements and rights, thus ensuring access and inherent mechanisms to redress and follow-up.
- Eliminate customary, traditional, inter-generational and unclean employment like manual scavenging, Devadasi system, and bonded labour.
- Recognize and value unpaid care work done by Dalit community especially women, to ensure fair and equal compensation of work done.
- Eliminate child labour.
- Implement rehabilitation schemes for bonded labourers, Devadasis, manual scavengers, and child labourers in hazardous industries, a disproportionate number of whom are Dalits.
- Affirmative action in employment for encouraging Dalits to have proper opportunities in the public and private sector.

Ecological Justice

- Create guidelines to ensure Dalit's equal access to disaster risk reduction, as a high-risk population.
- Build the resilience of the poor and excluded including Dalits, and reduce their exposure and vulnerability to climate-related extreme events and other economic, social and environmental shocks and disasters.
- Recognize the reliance of disadvantaged communities on natural resources; ensure their inclusion in planning and policy-making for the external usage of these resources.

Data

- Create effective mechanisms for tracking atrocities against Dalits in each country.
- Mandate caste- and gender-disaggregated data collected by all government bodies that produce national and state level data on socio-economic and political situations of different social groups.
